Dear Parents

A-level Religious Studies conference

We will be taking all A-level religion, philosophy and ethics (RPE) students to the Academy Conferences 'A-level Masterclass' in Oxford on Monday 10 December 2018. They will attend university style lectures by Professor Keith Ward on conscience, Professor Alistair McGrath on science and religion, Julie Arliss on animal ethics, Professor Daphne Hampson on gender and theology. In addition there will be a debate on the issue of free will.

Your daughter has said that she wishes to attend this event and a ticket has been purchased for her. She will need to meet me outside the Oxford University Mathematical Institute at 9.10am and will need to make her own way back home from Oxford when the conference finishes at 3.45pm. A packed lunch will be provided but your daughter may wish to bring some money as she will be able to leave the Institute during the lunch break. The admission fee of £15 will be added to your school bill.

It is extremely important that we hold the very latest medical or dietary information on all our students, especially for any external school visits, so if there are any amendments or additions, do please let the School know. If your daughter has an inhaler or other medication, please ensure that she brings it with her.

If you have any concerns or would like further information please contact me.

Yours faithfully

Mrs S Scott
Teacher of Religion, Philosophy and Ethics
